

// NEXTANT 400XTi vs CJ4

Compared to the Citation's CJ4, the Nextant 400XTi delivers better range and speed with a purchase price of $5,450,000 vs $9,690,000 for the CJ4. The 400XTi delivers superior cabin volume with a flat floor greater in-flight comfort and a "squared oval" cross-section for more room around the head and shoulders. The CJ4 offers a limited range of standard "cookie-cutter" interior options. The 400XTi's custom-appointed interior provides the ultimate space to work or relax with a wide range of luxury interior finishings to choose from. Its signature club-four seating offers significant extra leg room, a larger table and Wi-Fi. In addition, the state-of-the-art acoustics package produces the quietest cabin in its class.

|               | 400XTi             | CJ4                |

// CABIN CROSS-SECTIONS

Combine this cabin, range and speed with lower operating costs than a CJ4 and the 400XTi dominates. Perhaps this is why Barron's Magazine recently voted the Nextant 400XTi the best jet in its class.
