- Beechcraft King Air 250 with Collins Fusion Flight Deck delivered to Bankstown in July
- Aircraft will be operated by Royal Flying Doctor Service (South Eastern Section)
- Acquisition demonstrates continuous investment in State of the Art regional aeromedical services

SYDNEY, July 17 2017 – Nextant Pacific Pty Ltd (“Nextant Pacific”), one of Asia Pacific’s most innovative and resourceful new aircraft sales and acquisitions companies today announced the sale of the first Beechcraft King Air 250 with Fusion Avionics to Australia. The King Air 250 was acquired for the iconic Australian aeromedical provider the The Royal Flying Doctor Service of Australia (South Eastern Section) (“RFDS”) and will initially be based in Sydney, Australia. It will join the already substantial aeromedical and primary healthcare fleet operated by RFDS. The aircraft will operate throughout NSW providing clinic runs to regional, rural and remote locations.

“The aeromedical business is a key focus area for Nextant Pacific, so we are delighted that the RFDS have chosen to partner with us for their important work.” said Nextant Pacific Managing Director John Oppenheim. “We have chosen to specialise in the acquisition, sales and brokerage of the King Air aircraft. We were confident from our first meetings with the RFDS that we could add value and save costs for them when it comes to purchasing the Beechcraft King Air product.”

Nextant Pacific not only was able to secure the aircraft for the RFDS, but were able to provide a turn key solution for the import of the aircraft, the ferry flight and also the placement of it on the VH register. A video of the arrival of the aircraft in Bankstown is available at – <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=7OmMtDh98B8>

“The aircraft selection, modification and delivery process has been outstanding.” added General Manager - Aviation and Strategic Development David Charlton. “We have developed new capability for aircraft sourcing.”
